Remedial Learning Engagement

Every student is unique and hence the learning ability of the students may vary from high to low level. All the students can't achieve higher grades because of the difference in their learning abilities. Usually the learning abilities of the students are identified or diagnosed with the help of the first internal tests marks. The students those who score fewer marks in the internal tests are considered for remedial teaching. Remedial teaching is a special type of instruction aimed at helping the students to overcome their individual learning ability. In general, the learning abilities are caused by correctable disorders and are rectified by giving individual care through remedial teaching. In remedial teaching the teacher educators provide;

- Special instructional help to the students during free periods or before and after college hours
- Individual care for the slow learners
- Re-teach the content if needed
- Tests were conducted frequently to measure their progress
- Students are specially encouraged and supported to score more marks with ease

The list of the students appeared for the remedial instructions are as follows.
